Our Community Makes IFCS Better

Integrated Family Community Services (IFCS) has faced challenging circumstances over the past few years. Committed to partnering with the community to alleviate hunger since 1964, we’ve responded by adapting and improving our programs and services. Thanks to all who support and collaborate with us, we continue growing and making a difference.

 PROGRAM IMPROVEMENTS  make us better

The Food Market at IFCS has been introducing a growing selection of nutritious and culturally relevant choices that are sourced locally. Selection options include fresh produce, meat and dairy items.

We developed online program applications for financial, wellness and seasonal enrichment programs to provide convenience for participants.

Our Single Meal Program provides ready-to-eat meals and snacks for those who are unhoused and unsheltered.

 VOLUNTEERS  make us better

When pandemic restrictions lifted in 2021, volunteers were invited back and we added a full-time volunteer coordinator to our team.

We shifted to online volunteer applications and welcomed interested candidates to interview and tour IFCS.

Our volunteer team tripled in a year, and IFCS’ Volunteer Core was established with its own logo and a newly defined mission.

We expanded new volunteer roles, including individual and group opportunities.

Volunteers have made possible IFCS’ grocery distribution to upwards of 6,000+ people each month. Adding volunteer talent to our team has streamlined IFCS operations, increased outreach, and improved effectiveness.

 IFCS is nourishing lives and building stronger communities, thanks to YOUR HELP!

Responding to growing hunger, IFCS has expanded programming and increased outreach to those in need. Nimble adaptations and strong support sustain our commitment to nourishing lives as an Emergency Food Provider.

Thanks to our current volunteers, donors and community partners for your generous and ongoing support!

Join us!

Contact Todd McPherson to learn about opportunities to work with IFCS: todm@ifcs.org or (303) 725-9894

 PARTNERS & DONORS  make us better

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

IFCS’ dated, insufficient refrigerator and freezer spaces were upgraded, and pallet jack acquired, thanks to community partners.

We shifted from receiving 97% of food resources from community donations to purchasing 97% directly. Donor and grant funds made this transition possible.

Purchasing directly from food manufacturers that meet grant fund guidelines allows IFCS to obtain top quality food, in bulk quantities, and with deep savings.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.

Uncertainty in grocery stores resulted in fewer food donations. Thankfully, partnering manufacturers experiencing supply and order changes provided IFCS with surplus donations.

Inflation, supply chain and transportation issues continue to challenge IFCS’ food access. Donations in all sizes help us continue to provide nutritious meals for hungry families in our area.